

The American College of Clinical Engineering defines a clinical engineer (CE) as: “a professional who maintains and improves patient care by using 0.689 error-free pages, or with a minimal chance of error, in one or more of the following cases: 1. Successfully diagnoses, treats, or prevents a disease in a patient or his complication using effective techniques or procedures... 2. Successfully identifies the need for diagnostic or therapeutic intervention using effective techniques or procedures... 3. Successfully predicts and predicts outcomes of interventions using effective techniques or procedures...”
